Why attend the “IT Audit Post COVID-19: Basics Revamped” Workshop

The outbreak of COVID-19 has placed major challenges on organizations especially on the business resilience and Cyber security areas.

This workshop will cover the audit of the major IT operations and functions, with special focus on the functions affected the most by COVID-19 and how the IT Audit function is going to be post COVID 19.

What will I learn?

Attendees will get a highlight on the major IT operations, functions, and related audit process:

1. The necessary IT leadership, organizational structures and processes to support the organization's (business) strategy
2. The information systems development, acquisition, testing and implementation best practices
3. The information systems operations, maintenance and service management processes and best practices

Special focus on the audit of the most affected areas by COVID-19 pandemic:

1. Systems development practices
2. Business Resilience including, System Resiliency, Business Continuity Plan (BCP) and Disaster Recovery Plans (DRP)
3. Cybersecurity covering the security and privacy policies, procedures and controls to ensure the confidentiality, integrity and availability of information

Workshop Features

The workshop will address, first, the basis for the IT major functions to ensure all participants have what is required for an effective interaction in the workshop discussion.

A more in-depth analysis and audit techniques for what is thought to be the mostly affected/changed post COVID-19, which are mainly the development practices, Business Resilience and Cybersecurity.

Online exercises, surveys and workshop practices will be included to ensure participation from all attendees.
